Connecting Points

We are preparing to celebrate the life and faith of another person in our church family. Tracy Vickers, (like Tammy Campbell), made a huge impact on the lives of so many and her absence will create a huge void in our hearts. When we remember people, who have joined the Church Triumphant and entered in to God's eternity we have mixed emotions. This is true since they touched our lives in so many ways but we know they are living their new and improved lives with God; so, we rejoice.

Our faith tells us that death is not the end but rather, an exit ramp into what's next on God's calendar for us. Our tears tell us and others the significance of their lives among us but our faith tells us of their spiritual lives with God. They are now apart from us but a part of the great cloud of witnesses who cheer us on toward this life's finish line. I don't see them down at the cemetery but rather up in heaven's grandstands. I hear them echo the words of the One who cheers us on and gives us the courage and the confidence to fight with heart and soul the life of hope, faith and love that is set before us. Eventually, we like them, can celebrate with the words of the Apostle Paul…" I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. There is now reserved for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me on that day, and not only to me but also to all who have longed for his appearing." (2 Timothy 4:7-8)
